

citizenship

Working respectfully and responsibly with others and for your community.

People who display citizenship take care of themselves and their communities. Citizenship requires social awareness, relationship skills and responsible decision-making. People with strong citizenship are collaborative, communicative and constructive.

Children displaying citizenship take responsibility for their thoughts and behaviors. They take care of property, the environment, and relationships. They consider the well being of others before they act. They seek and offer help. They negotiate conflict constructively. They follow the rules that lead to a productive, safe, and happy community.

You can help children develop citizenship by modeling respect and responsibility in your talk and in your actions: Care for all of the children in the school and demonstrate how you support other members of the staff so we can meet our community goals and needs. Celebrate the way children act as good citizens by letting them know their positive actions make them valuable members of our community: at MSA, in our town and in our world.
